

MOBILE DEVELOPER

We're looking for new mobile developers to join our award winning team. The right fit is passionate about mobile design and technology, has great attention to detail and a "FTW!" attitude.

If you're right for the role, you're passionate about mobile development. You'll have a solid understanding of mobile web and application development and design. You will have had exposure to, or have skills in, other back-end technologies such as web services and content management systems and a broad awareness of current mobile development techniques and technologies. Additional experience in modern HTML5, CSS3 and JavaScript practices is a desirable advantage. Experience in a commercial environment is ideal but not a necessity.

Mobile Developer's typical day

The typical day starts at the office coffee machine fine tuning your tamping skills, followed by morning development, technical investigation or meetings with key stakeholders sharing ideas, issues and opportunities.

Lunch is often in house at a communal lounge area watching people hurt themselves in Japanese game shows.

The rest of the day is usually dominated by joyful development in futuristic chairs and interactions with the tech, designers and accounts team to bring our next award winner to life. We work the usual business hours but when projects are heating up, it's not uncommon to find us working late to deliver our projects at the premium quality our hard work deserves. We balance the occasional long hours and tough work with a supportive culture, training, collaborative success and an energetic social club.

Essential Skills

- Mobile development experience
- HTML5 familiarity with mobile web focus
- CSS3 familiarity with a mobile web focus
- Photoshop/Illustrator competence
- Strong communication skills with the ability to converse with multiple teams
- Ability to manage blueprinting process such as wireframing, technical exploration and documentation.
- Ability to adhere to programming and methodology standards.

JOB OPPORTUNITY

MOBILE DEVELOPER

- Familiarity with modern mobile web development practices with HTML5, CSS3 & JavaScript.
- Experience extracting designs from Photoshop and/or Illustrator.

Other Skills (Desirable but not essential)

- Experience with XCode, Objective-C and iOS development
- Experience with Java Spring Mobile
- Experience with Android development
- .Net backend & SQL Server database experience
- PHP backend & MySQL database experience
- User Experience (UX) considerations when developing solutions
- Understanding of validation and compliance to W3C standards
- TPS reports and relevant cover sheet policies

Overall Responsibilities

- To work collaboratively with technical, design and account teams
- To produce world-class technical implementations of creative designs in mobile format
- To show commitment to best practices and standards-compliance in front-end delivery
- To be able to work under tight deadlines
- To be willing to own one or more aspects of the team, such as compliance or testing

Full time/Contract

We're looking for someone to fill a full time position but are also open to a contract of 1-2 months.

Package

The package is dependent on experience but in line with industry average.

Next steps

Up for the challenge? Please send your online portfolio to jobs@nomadagency.com.au

JOB OPPORTUNITY

MOBILE DEVELOPER

About Nomad

We're a Sydney based mobile agency that specialise in strategic, design-led, mobile marketing solutions.

We work with a wide range of clients and industry sectors including Westpac, Canon, Merivale, Nickelodeon, NSW Government, Red Balloon and Taronga Zoo to develop and produce innovative, engaging campaigns and products across various mobile platforms.

Through our dual capacity as a strategic ideas generation business, coupled with our technical development and production capability, our solutions are inventive, highly effective and accountable.

We've recently won the AWARD best mobile award, Finalists for 3 AIMIA's and 1 Webby! Our team love working in Nomad because we're innovators and have the resources to make awesome ideas a reality, we work with great clients and exciting products, we all share our knowledge and enjoy learning from each other, we're passionate about our work but don't take ourselves too seriously.

